Physical Description:

This collection of papers, objects, and books pertinent to or once the property of members of Kennebunk's Cousens family, was given to the Museum by the widow of Theodore Wells Cousens. It includes a Cousens family bible with early genealogy (see genealogical reference material attached to this inventory), papers of George Cousens, who was Collector of Customs for the Kennebunk District when it was phased out ca 1920, and drawings and sketches by Walter Cousens.

Also part of this collection contains early photographs of Pauline Harper Ford and her children. Her daughter Nancie was the mother of George and Walter Cousens. A chart showing the Ford's connection to the famous Adams family (John Quincy Adams) is labeled "Adams Ancestry of Cousens Family."

A few photographs (snapshots) of the house on Portland Street where the Cousens family lived and of George Cousens dressed as Uncle Sam and riding an old fashioned bicycle are in the photograph file.

This small collection has interest because of the quality of the objects given with it, because of information it provides about various mid-nineteenth century Kennebunk Family connections, and because of George Cousens' connection to the Custom House.

Other Ford family materials were given under acquisition number 83.13.

This collection bears acquisition number 85.10.1-16.
