Physical Description:

This collection is part of a large collection of photographs, negatives, and local memorabilia that was once used and owned by local historian, Kenneth Joy, during the time he was writing his York County Coast Star column. Many local people gave Mr. Joy local photographs and other materials they no longer wanted. The photographs and negatives have been filed numerically into the Brick Store Museum's existing photographic files. This collection is comprised of other materials that came in as part of acquisition #89.34.
