Spend a day at The Brick Store Museum being a history sleuth!

A one-day, February Vacation workshop at
The Brick Store Museum,
117 Main Street, Kennebunk (985-4802)

Wednesday, February 18, 2009, 9:45 a.m. - 3 p.m.
(snow day: Thursday, February 19, 2009)

Activities conclude at 2:15 p.m. so that families can come in and view the investigators' final presentations given during the last 45 minutes (2:15 - 3 pm). The group presentations will be videotaped and made into DVDs as keepsakes of the day.

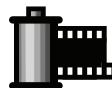

For investigators grades 4 through 8.

$25 per investigator ($20 per investigator for Museum members) includes a nutritious snack and all supplies.

Registration is limited and on a first-come, first-served basis.

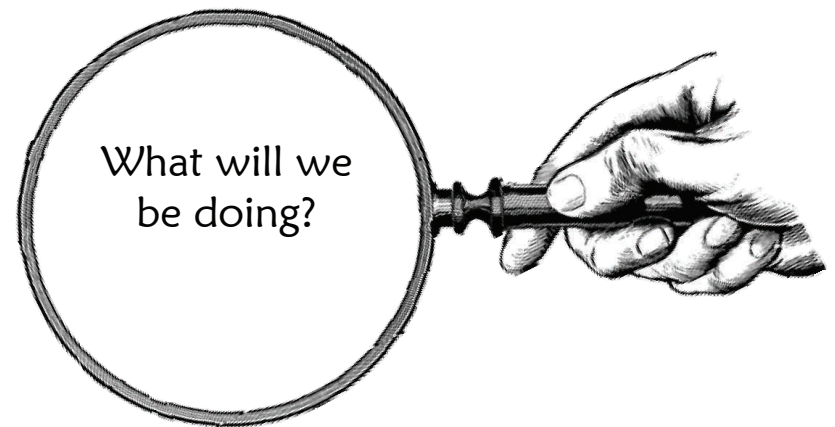

Bring your own lunch.

A Case of Missing Identity is made possible by the Museum's Dorothy Fish Fund for Furthering Edith Barry's Legacy and has been planned by members of The Brick Store Museum's Education Committee:

Tracy Baetz, Jackie Campbell, Gloria Day, Faye Denniston, Stephanie Limmer, Miriam Malkasian, Cheryl Price, and Janet Wolf

You're going to be a history sleuth! You'll be presented with a case filled with materials culled from the Brick Store Museum's extensive collections. Working with others on your "detective squad," you'll hone your investigative skills and use your powers of deduction. Sift through clues from artifacts, historical documents and photographs across the centuries to piece together the background of an actual person or place from Kennebunk's past. Who or what will it be?

Your squad will have a chance to creatively reveal its findings, perhaps as a news broadcast, mini-documentary, or historical reenactment. Whatever format you choose, your squad's presentation will be professionally videotaped and recorded to a DVD for you to keep as proof of your fine detective work!

What do I need to remember?

Don't forget to sign up early and to bring along your enthusiasm and creativity. Remember to pack your lunch and arrive on time at 9:45 a.m. so sleuthing can begin promptly at 10 a.m.—we have a busy day planned! We look forward to seeing you on February 18, 2009.
