Brick Store Museum accepts $100,000 gift

KENNEBUNK — Kennebunk Savings Bank Foundation recently donated $100,000 to The Brick Store Museum's Connecting Generations Capital Campaign for 2006 — the largest gift the bank has ever made to a museum, according to bank President and CEO Joel Stevens. "Kennebunk Savings Bank has been a part of the community since 1871—long enough to see the museum's Main Street block become the engaging and committed cultural institution it is today," he said. "For 70 years, the museum has fulfilled a vital role in our region, and we're pleased to be in a position to contribute to its sustainability."

Connecting Generations is the museum's first capital campaign in 13 years, which will have a public launch in June. The campaign goal of $1.5 million will enable the museum to make necessary structural repairs and restorations to its nearly 200-year-old historic buildings as well as fortify an endowment to benefit public programming and staff development.
