Physical Description:

This collection was donated to the Brick Store Museum by Lynn Kippax, a local man involved with the media, who collected documents from the White House Press Corps during George Herbert Walker Bush’s presidential stays in Kennebunkport from 1989 to 1992.

The papers include reports by the press corps (pool reports, interview transcripts, press conference and press briefing transcripts), documents issued by the White House (Presidential statements, appointments to positions, executive orders and legislation, statements by the Press Secretary, etc.) and miscellaneous documents pertaining to Bush and the press (notices to the press, schedules and itineraries, and newspapers).

The collection is of local interest because it details local events, places, and people. It is also of interest to a broader base because of its records of events of historical significance, and its candid view of the President and the press.

The collection is sorted into twelve boxes and bears the acquisition number 2003.070.0001-. It is sorted into a master copy, type of document, duplicates and newspapers.
